

TURKISH OUTRAGES.

The Lives of American Missionaries Not Safe.

THE ATTACK ON MISS MELTON.

Set Upon and Almost Murdered. Bitter Complaint Against the Inactivity of the United States Government—Attempts Being Made to Arouse the State Department. Perils of Other Workers.

New York, August 1.—Later advice received by the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church confirm the first reports of the attack upon Miss Anna Melton, a missionary of the board, while stopping in the Nestorian village of Duree, in the Kordish mountains in Turkey. It is considered almost miraculous that the woman escaped with her life, for the night was so dark that she could scarcely see to defend herself against her assailants. They broke into the tent in which she was sleeping on the roof of the mud-covered house of her servant, as is the custom of the people during the hot season. The fact that Miss Melton was not murdered convinces the board that the work was done at the instigation of the authorities of the government, who, it is believed, wished to frighten her and her associates away from the country.

It is probable that this outrage upon an American citizen will become the subject of international correspondence at least. The matter has already been called to the attention of the state department through the legation in Constantinople, before which the fact of the outrage was laid soon after its occurrence on June 14 last. But the members of the Presbyterian board were not satisfied to let the question rest without making an appeal to the government in behalf of the rights of Miss Melton and others who are stationed within the domains of the sultan. On Saturday they sent to Secretary of State Gresham a communication setting forth the details of the case.

The letter contained an earnest appeal for the punishment of the offenders against the treaty obligations and for reparation against the Turkish government. It urged in the strongest terms the necessity of immediate action, and predicted that unless something be done to put an effectual stop to attacks upon Americans, the life of no citizen of the United States would be safe in Turkey. Instances of previous outrages were brought forward, notably the one of 1889, when Dr. John G. Wishard and a company of missionaries were beaten and robbed in broad day by a band of Nestorians at Ikoma, in the lonely mountains of Kordistan.

Inclosed in the letter to the state department is a complete account of the assault upon Miss Melton, written by the Rev. E. W. McDowell, in the charge of the little company of missionaries to which she belonged. From evidence which Mr. McDowell brings out it appears that the attack upon the woman was the work of soldiers of Amadia, who had been sent by the authorities of that place to the village where Miss Melton was staying for the very purpose of committing the deed. Amadia is the town by which the other missionaries were stopping, while Miss Melton made her way to Duree, a few miles distant, at the invitation of the inhabitants, among whom she had lived before. It is surmised that the brother of the kaimakam, or governor, was himself implicated in the matter. Mr. McDowell's letter pretty clearly demonstrates that the attack was not made by a lot of wandering Kurds, as the Turkish authorities affect to believe. The letter says in part:

"The government here will, in all probability, do absolutely nothing toward punishing those men. The same is true of the governments in Mosul and Constantinople, if left to their own will. This government can protect us, whether on the road or in the villages, and that not by sending soldiers with us, but by governing in earnestness. Had the men who robbed us in Ikoma been punished as they might easily have been, had the men who robbed us at Telkeif been punished as they might have been punished, this affair would never have happened.

"It is a word in everybody's mouth that our government never does anything for us, that we have no king. We are not protected, not because the government here cannot protect us, but because our government does not demand it. What can be done as to final action I do not know, but as to immediate action looking toward our protection while this case is being investigated, and until we are able to reach Mosul, which will not be until the fall, I would respectfully suggest that the strongest influence be brought to bear upon the state department to have them telegraph to Constantinople demanding that orders be sent at once to Mosul to take the necessary steps to secure our safety until the case can be investigated. That such prompt and decided action is called for our situation shows.

"Miss Melton has just narrowly escaped death, and that in all probability, at the hands of men in this city (Amadia), possibly by a government officer. There are powerful men here who find our presence obnoxious to them. The government's inaction in previous cases and now in this emboldens them to still more desperate deeds. They can force us to leave the city without committing murder or robbery, and yet, once outside the city, our lives would not be worth a farthing.

"None is more helpless now than we; none, to their mind, offers a greater prize as a reward for such violence."

Upper Sandusky Bank Closed.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., August 1.—The Wyandot County Bank, of this place, has suspended payment. The matter created but little excitement, as the general impression is that the bank is thoroughly solvent, its suspension being brought about by a lack of confidence by depositors and the impossibility of converting its paper into ready cash. The liabilities are between $70,000 and $75,000, while the assets are about $100,000.

All About a Boundary Line.

OAXACA, MEX., August 1.—Trouble between the towns of Mazatlan and Tejalpa, in this state, over the question of boundary lines, has culminated in a pitched battle. A number of people on both sides were killed and many wounded. A large detachment of troops has been sent to quell the disturbance and to prevent further bloodshed.

Treaty of Peace.

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, NICARAGUA, AUG. 1.—News has been received here that a treaty of peace has been signed by representatives of the Granada government and the Leon revolutionaries.

THE POPE ON SOCIALISM.

An Encyclical Addressed to All the Rulers in Christendom on Labor and Social Tendencies.

New York, August 1.—The World's Rome cable says: The pope has been engaged for some months upon an encyclical to all the rulers in Christendom. Following are extracts from the encyclical:

The social question should be placed on a religious basis if we would obtain at once a philosophical and a practical solution of the difficulty.

Atheism and a departure from the Christian faith are the great aids and stimulants of anarchy and socialism. The Christian faith alone is the bulwark of social order.

At this moment Europe is in the throes of an immense upheaval of socialism in which one violent struggle succeeds another unceasingly. In many cases the reason is to be found in the fact that legislation has not been duly enacted, for every person should have his legitimate part in the benefit of society according to the order of providence.

The state of unrest is not confined to the working classes, properly so called. It has taken root and is bearing nefarious fruit in the more cultivated part of society.

A strike can be justified only as a means of defense when an individual's interest is attacked. Never can it be justified as a collective arm of aggression.

If the discontented operative is to be detached from anarchical socialism, his wants must be understood by his rulers, who must not leave the unscrupulous agitators the monopoly of social reform. The potency of religion and charity opposes an insurmountable obstacle to the dangerous movement which human force and human repression can only make more grave.

The rights of protecting the operative, whether in the factory or in the field, should be admitted. And for this purpose the maximum of labor, as well as the minimum of salary, should be arranged giving due attention to days of rest and abstention from labor.

Martinsburg Notes.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., July 23.—The handsomest entertainment of the season was given last night by Miss Flick, daughter of Hon. W. H. H. Flick, at their palatial residence on Main street, to her numerous friends. Miss Flick was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Silas Martin, of Hagerstown, Md. A large number of leading society people of Martinsburg and other places were present.

Hon. S. W. Walker has just returned home from a month's sojourn at Sweet Springs, W. Va. His fiancée, Miss Thayer, of Charleston, has also been a guest at the Springs. The marriage will take place in October, after which the couple will take a bridal tour to the Pacific coast.

The teachers' institute was held here this week conducted by Prof. Kimler, of Shepherdstown, and Foulk, of Piedmont.

There has been no rain in some sections of Berkeley and Jefferson counties for over two months, and in no section has there been more than one or two small showers. The crops are virtually dried up. The corn is tasseling and shooting and is not more than two feet high where it ought to be ten or twelve, and unless there should be copious rains within the next few days, the farmers will be compelled to feed their stock on the scant provision of provender laid up for the winter to save them from starvation. The pasture fields are as bare and dry as the roads.

BLOUNT'S MISSION.

He Has Completed His Work in Hawaii. Character of His Work.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 1.—Authentic advice received here state that Minister Blount failed to turn over matters in Hawaii as far as the United States' interests are concerned to Commodore Skerrett, of the Boston, and he will sail for the United States on the 6th inst., without waiting for the appointment of his successor. Mr. Blount may therefore be expected to arrive at San Francisco about August 12. Meantime his report, which has been mailed by the steamer Oceanic, will have preceded him, and by the time the special commissioner and minister arrives in the east the President and Secretary Gresham will have had full opportunity to consider its contents.

The intimation that Mr. Blount has relinquished his mission because he resented his appointment as successor to Mr. Stevens does not appear to be borne out by the facts. The appointment followed Mr. Blount's arrival in Honolulu as a natural and necessary feature of the work placed in his hands, and the minister's reason for returning to the United States is his desire to give attention to his personal affairs which are much in need of careful handling, and the fact that he has already completed the important part of the work confided to him justified him in returning to his home. In this connection it may be stated that the scope of this work was limited to the collection and collation of the actual facts of the existing political situation in Hawaii. It was not contemplated that he should recommend annexation or a protectorate, or that he would endeavor to restore the monarchy. He was to learn all the facts; to ascertain as nearly as he could in the absence of a popular vote, which it was not within his power to secure, the exact strength of the annexation sentiment on the islands, and the position taken that it did not accord with the republican ideas, that a different form of government should not be forced upon a majority of the Hawaiian people against their desires. But he was not empowered to interfere in the affairs of the provisional government further than was necessary to protect American interests, nor was he charged to make any recommendations, and to the President and the secretary of state was to be left the decision as to the future relations of Hawaii to the United States. Mr. Blount's report forming the basis for that decision.

CHOLERA IN NAPLES.

Many Deaths Despite the Denials of Foreign Papers.

LONDON, August 1.—Despite the denials that have been made by certain news organizations as to the presence of cholera in Naples, and information that appeared to sustain the denials, the Associated Press has obtained the following figures as to the number of cases of the disease and deaths in that city:

From July 20 to July 28 there were 292 cholera cases registered in the city and 157 deaths. The daily average was 37 cases and 17 deaths. On July 22, 43 fresh cases and 24 deaths were reported. The number of cases and deaths has declined since then.

Luxurious Traveling.

The climax of comfortable and luxurious traveling is apparently reached by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway. Ease and comfort go with the traveler making a trip from Chicago to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha or Sioux City over this road. Their superb electric-lighted vestibuled trains leaving Chicago for these points early every evening are great favorites, nothing being left undone by the officials or employees to ensure a most enjoyable trip. Excellent dining service is maintained and buffet library cars are attached to the train, where current periodicals may be perused while smoking a cigar with all the pleasure of one's own "den" at home. Electric lights placed in every berth enable the traveler to spend his wakeful hours, after retiring, over his favorite novel or other reading matter. Private compartment cars are run between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis. In fact, everything that goes to ensure comfort and security is provided. The trip from Chicago to any of the above named cities requires but a night's run, bringing one at the destination ready for breakfast and business in the morning. All coupon ticket agents have tickets on sale via Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, or call on or address John R. Pott, District Passenger Agent, Williamsport, Pa.

Vernon, the tomb of Washington, as well as to visit other places of interest in and near Washington.

LOOKING FOR LEAD.

A Paying Vein Thought to Have Been Struck Near Parkersburg. Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., July 31.—The Little Kanawha valley is highly excited over the discovery of a paying lead mine that has been struck. The shaft that is being dug is located on the bank of the Little Kanawha, a short distance above Lock No. 1. The shaft is down twenty-five feet and a vein has been struck, the ore of which is thought to contain lead. Mr. Buchanan, the owner of the land, and Mr. Baker, of Richmond, Va., who are interested in the search, feel encouraged that the indications are good for a paying vein. They will go six feet deeper, where they think they have located a vein of lead ore. They are spending considerable money in the search.

A SENSATIONAL STORY.

That the Cold Storage Fire Was of Incendiary Origin.

Chicago, July 31.—In connection with the grand jury investigation into the cold storage warehouse holocaust, a local paper prints a sensational story to the effect that the fire which resulted so disastrously to human life was of incendiary origin, the incentive being a desire to cover up a wholesale theft of goods stored in the warehouse. The story goes that for three weeks previous to the fire the big house was systematically looted night after night by a ring, composed of certain crooks on the outside and certain parties on the inside. On one occasion, it is said, a watering cart was loaded and carted away.

WARM WEATHER WISDOM.

SOME MERCHANTS would have you believe that trade enters a condition of torpidity about July 1, and remains so till the cool days of September wake it to life and activity again. But, begging your pardon, that is not true. There is no season of the year in which people do not buy goods; there is no season in which they do not want them. By the same token, there is no season in which it will not pay to advertise.

However, if your neighbor has this old-fashioned notion, and is too conservative to advertise now, there is all the better chance for you. If you think people are not hunting bargains in warm weather, try it. Everybody is not out of town, by a large majority!
